

Lupin

Lupinus perennis

A springtime favorite, with a distinctive leaf consisting of many narrow, pointed leaflets and a tall spike with many individual flowers around the central stem. Spreads easily. Makes good companion plants for crops that need significant amounts of nitrogen in their soil.

Full sun – part shade

Dry, sandy

1-2 ft tall

June bloom

✓ Pollinators